Stephen Thompson
Head Coach

After a breakthrough campaign in 2007-08, Stephen Thompson enters his fourth season as head coach and seventh season overall with the Cal State L.A. men's basketball program.

The Golden Eagles posted a 17-11 overall record and finished in a tie for third in the California Collegiate Athletic Association in 2007-08. Cal State L.A. qualified for the CCAA Championship Tournament as a No. 3 seed and hosted a first-round game. The Golden Eagles finished the season ranked ninth in the NCAA Division II West Region and made their first appearance in a regional poll since 2000. The 17 wins were the most for the Golden Eagles since the 1999-2000 season and the third-place finish in the conference was the best since a second-place finish in 2000.

Thompson was able to lead the Golden Eagles to their best season in eight years despite losing two of the team's top three scorers – one after just eight games and the other after 14 contests. Vincent Camper earned All-CCAA and All-West Region honors and led a trio of Golden Eagles who notched a conference-high five CCAA Player of the Week awards last season.

Thompson became the head coach of the program in March of 2005 following the retirement of former head coach Dave Yanai. In his first three years as the Cal State L.A. head coach, Thompson has led the team to an overall record of 37-45. Under Thompson's leadership, the Golden Eagles have seen their offensive productivity jump from 59.4 points per game in 2005 to 76.3 points per game last season. The Golden Eagles also saw a big improvement in their defensive performance and allowed five fewer points per game last year than they had the previous season.

The Golden Eagles were 10-17 in 2006-07 in a season that included wins over CCAA champion Humboldt State (94-85) and Division-1 bound Cal State Bakersfield (70-63). Cal State L.A. also had its first All-American since 2003 when leading scorer Jontae Vinson earned honorable mention recognition. Vinson also became the first Golden Eagle to earn first-team All-Region honors since 2003 and the Golden Eagles placed two players on the All-CCAA teams for the first time since 2002.

In Thompson's first season as head coach, the Golden Eagles took a big jump, improving nine games overall and becoming one of the most improved programs in the NCAA Division II. The Golden Eagles swept local rival Cal State Dominguez Hills and posted a big win over Cal State Bakersfield to highlight a 10-17 season.

Thompson joined Cal State L.A. in 2002 and in his first season on the bench, the Golden Eagles ranked 46th in the nation in scoring defense, allowing only 67.3 points per game. In his second season, the Golden Eagles allowed just 65.4 points per game and moved up to 31st in the country in scoring defense.

A Los Angeles native and Crenshaw High School graduate, Thompson was a three-year starter at Syracuse from 1986-90 and was a key part of the team that reached the 1987 NCAA Championship Game against Indiana and also the 1989 squad that advanced to a regional championship game before falling to Illinois.

Thompson earned honorable mention All-America honors by the Associated Press and The Sporting News in 1989 and 1990 and was the Big East Conference's Men's Basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 1990. During his four years playing for legendary Syracuse head coach Jim Boeheim, the Orange won two Big East titles in 1987 and 1990, finished second in the conference in 1988 and made four NCAA Tournament appearances, including three trips to the Sweet 16. Syracuse was a combined 113-31 overall and 45-19 in conference play during Thompson's playing career.

Thompson currently owns the second-best career shooting mark in NCAA Tournament history. In 15 NCAA Tournament games, Thompson hit 78-of-114 field-goal attempts (.684). Former UCLA great Bill Walton leads that category with a .686 percentage in 12 games.

He also holds the Orange career mark for games played (144), ranks second in career field goals (801), fifth in career field-goal percentage (.560), sixth in career scoring (1,956) and tied for 12th in career steals (184). At the end of his collegiate playing career, Thompson ranked third in Syracuse history in scoring and seventh in steals.

Professionally, Thompson had stints with the Orlando Magic, Sacramento Kings and the Denver Nuggets and also played in Europe, Japan, the CBA, the ABA and the Southern California Pro League.

Before joining the Cal State L.A. coaching staff, Thompson served as Athletic Director for the Coast Christian School in Redondo Beach, while continuing both his roles as Co-Founder and Director of Give & Go Basketball Academy and as coach for the Southern California All-Stars.

He also had a role in the 2002 basketball movie, "Like Mike."

Thompson received his bachelor's degree in marketing from Syracuse in 1990.

He and his wife, Amy, have two children: Stephen Jr. and Ethan.

Gary Vasquez
Assistant Coach

A former player at Cal State L.A., Gary Vasquez begins his fifth year as an assistant coach for the men's basketball program. His responsibilities include scheduling, film exchange, monitoring the weight-lifting program, scouting and he also serves as one of the recruiting coordinators. He has also assisted with the program's summer camps for the past four years.

The Golden Eagles enjoyed a breakthrough season in 2007-08. The Golden Eagles posted a 17-11 overall record and finished in a tie for third in the California Collegiate Athletic Association. Cal State L.A. qualified for the CCAA Championship Tournament as a No. 3 seed and hosted a first-round game. The Golden Eagles finished the season ranked ninth in the NCAA Division II West Region and made their first appearance in a regional poll since 2000. The 17 wins were the most for the Golden Eagles since the 1999-2000 season and the third-place finish in the conference was the best since a second-place finish in 2000.

As a player, Vasquez played in all 27 games during his senior season in 2003-04. He started 22 games and was seventh in the conference in steals (39) and ninth in assists (79). He was also presented with the team's "Most Inspirational Player" award.

He started his coaching career as a volunteer student assistant coach for then-head coach Dave Yanai in the 2004-05 season. When Coach Stephen Thompson took over for the 2005-06 season, Vasquez was promoted to the No. 1 assistant coach position.

The Whittier native came to Cal State L.A. to complete a college basketball career that started at East L.A. College, where he played for two seasons from 2000-02. He then played for one year at San Jose Christian in 2002-03 and led the program to its best-ever record at 19-12 while setting a school single-season record for assists (174).

He played three years of varsity basketball at St. John Bosco and earned All-Serra League honors as a senior. He was a two-year team captain.

Vasquez received his Master's degree in education from AIU after receiving his bachelor's degree in industrial technology from Cal State L.A. in 2005.

He and his wife, Nicole, were married in August of 2006.

Neal Hyams
Assistant Coach

After joining Cal State L.A.'s men's basketball program last year, Neal Hyams returns for a second season with the Golden Eagles' coaching staff.

Hyams comes to Cal State L.A. from Mira Costa High School, where he was the girls basketball varsity coach from 2003-08. He guided his team to a CIF Southern Section championship in 2008 and his team also was a state runner-up in Division 2. He also led the 2007 team to the CIF Southern Section championship game.

His record at Mira Costa was 96-40.

Before going to Mira Costa, Hyams was a successful middle school boys coach for five years and he was also a club coach for fifth-thru-eighth grade boys for six years.

He and his wife, Stephanie, have three children, Marisa, J.T. and Livia

Yosuke Mizoguchi
Team Manager

A basketball player and coach from Japan, Yosuke Mizoguchi joins the Cal State L.A. men's basketball program as the team manager. Mizoguchi helps with practices and with game-time management duties.

He has his college degree in physical education and has a credential to teach P.E. in Japan. He graduated from the University of Tokay in 2006. Mizoguchi played basketball from 2002-05 where he was on the "B" team. He was an assistant coach on the "A" team in 2005 and the "B" team in 2006. He was also part of the 2006 All-University tournament champion team.

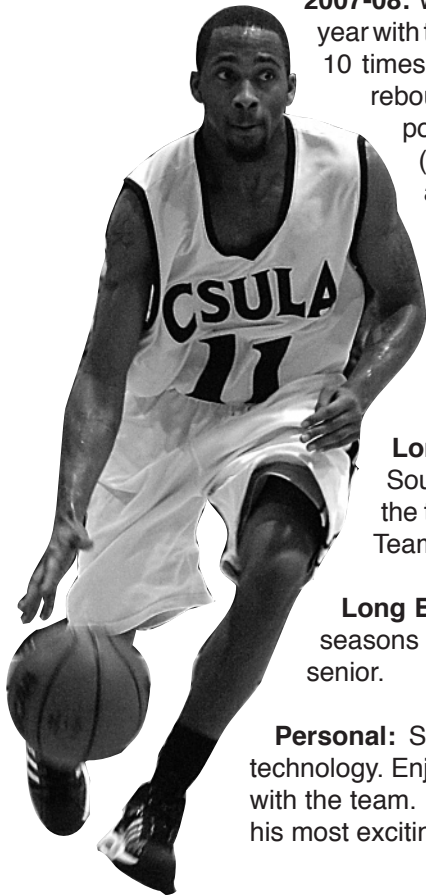

He is currently taking classes at the International Language Systems in Alhambra.

THE EAGLES NEST

The Eagles Nest is home to the Cal State L.A. basketball and volleyball teams. The arena seats 5,000 fans, with many of the seats right on top of the action. In fact, the first row of seats is just inches away from the edges of the basketball playing floor.

The retro-style of the Eagles Nest includes the ability for the arena to quickly become one of the loudest arenas in the country.

The Eagles Nest hosted some of the finest athletes in the world as the judo competition was held at CSULA during the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles. The Eagles Nest was featured prominently in the 2005 movie Coach Carter, starring Samuel L. Jackson.

Good luck to the
in the 2008-09 season!

California State University, Los Angeles, founded in 1947, is a comprehensive university that offers programs of higher education in more than 50 academic and professional fields. The University is organized into six colleges that house nearly 50 academic departments and divisions.

Cal State L.A.'s reputation as a center of learning attracts students from all areas of the United States and from many foreign countries. One quarter of the campus' 21,000 students are engaged in postbaccalaureate study in programs leading to master's and doctoral degrees; teaching, service, and specialist credentials; certificates; and other types of programs that prepare them for professional advancement.

Net gain: Tennis great Billie Jean King ('61-'64) received an honorary doctorate at Cal State L.A.'s 50th Commencement ceremony and, since 1998, has hosted a tennis fundraiser in order to benefit athletics scholarships.

The young and the gifted: The University's Early Entrance Program -- the only one of its kind in the nation -- involves gifted students, sometimes as young as 11 years old, directly in college life.

Number One: Solar Eagle III, the third chapter in Cal State L.A.'s exciting trilogy of solar-powered electric vehicle design projects, finished first at the national intercollegiate competition, Sunrayce 97. Solar Eagle III was the first solar Hot Wheels® racecar to be manufactured by Mattel, Inc. and the only Hot Wheels® reproduction of a student-built vehicle in the nation.

Nation's most famous math teacher: In 1987, the successes of Garfield High math teacher and Cal State L.A. alum Jaime Escalante '73, '77 M.A., became known across America when Edward James Olmos ('66-'67) portrayed him in the film Stand and Deliver.

The best faculty! Cal State L.A.'s nationally- and internationally recognized faculty boasts 12 recipients of the California State University system's prestigious Trustees' Outstanding Professor Award (more than at any other CSU campus), a California Professor of the Year, and two educators who have received, at the White House, the Presidential Award for Excellence in Math, Science and Engineering Mentoring.
